

NICOLE BARONESS VON VIETINGHOFF-SCHEEL

Curator-cultural Diplomacy Ambassador
at Diplomatic World

Diplomatic World announces that Nicole Baroness von Vietinghoff-Scheel has joined as Curator-Cultural Diplomacy Ambassador with the aim of advising and guiding all aspects of art(s) as young and senior artists for Diplomatic World.

Since her debut on the German art market in 2011, curator Nicole Baroness von Vietinghoff-Scheel has organized more than 30 art exhibitions. She received her diploma as curator at the renowned Berlin University of the Arts. Nicole Baroness von Vietinghoff-Scheel specializes in the initiation of art projects for federal authorities, foundations and companies.

Her extensive network ranges from local partners such as Galleries Lafayette and international companies to the Berlin-based embassies of Japan, South Africa, Spain, Latvia as well as the German embassies in Moscow and Stockholm, the Consulate General of the Federal Republic of Germany in Milan and the Foreign Office in Berlin.

Whether it is a charity event for the Charité Berlin or the collaboration on an art project for the 56th Venice Biennale, Nicole Baroness von Vietinghoff-Scheel stands for excellent know-how in the art world with great public impact and unique character. Nicole Baroness von Vietinghoff-Scheel is a supporting member of the "Friends of the Berlin University of the Arts", Karl Hofer Society, and is a member of the International Club of the Foreign Office (ICAA) in Berlin. She lived in Moscow from 2001-2006, in Stockholm from 2017-2019 and since September 2019 she resides between Moscow and Berlin.

Photo: Nicole Baroness von Vietinghoff-Scheel

